0:00 - 0:06 GFX: Camryn Holly, Communication (Media Production) Major	0:00 - 0:06 Camryn Holly “I’m Camryn Holly. I’m a Communication Major with a concentration in Media Production and I’m a Senior”.
0:07 - 0:09 B-Roll: Media Production board	0:07 - 0:13 Camryn Holly “I, leaving high school, knew I wanted to go into production. It was exactly what I wanted to do, so I just jumped into it”.
0:09 - 0:13 B-Roll: Recording equipment
0:13 - 0:15 SOT: Camryn Holly	0:13 - 0:17 Camryn Holly “I didn't want to stay in a small town; I really wanted to go to a city for school”.
0:15 - 0:18 B-Roll: Cars driving on Broadway
0:18 - 0:19 B-Roll: Chapel on campus	0:17 - 0:29 Camryn Holly “I always wanted a smaller campus but still having the city nearby, and that's obviously exactly what this is. I think for going into production, New York is probably the best place to be right now”.
0:19 - 0:20 B-Roll: “Manhattan College” banner on streetlight

“I took COMM 350, the Field and Post-Production class. I felt it was a really great experience, the whole experience of working with other students to make a short film from beginning to end”.

0:42 - 0:48
Camryn Holly
“I made my short film with Jessica Solan and Aedan Roney, and it was called “Subfloor Zero”.

0:48 - 0:56
Camryn Holly
“The film was about someone who had died in the subfloors while studying and then he haunts students who study in the subfloors”.

0:56 - 1:13
Camryn Holly
“We had our character called Stew. The ghost was haunting him throughout and then in the end, we learn that the ghost was haunting him because he wanted him to go out, have fun, be a college student, and experience more than just studying in the library. It had a nice little message to it as well”.

1:29 - 1:37 SOT Camryn Holly	“You're getting experience in development and production as you're on set filming and then also editing, so you really get to follow the short film from beginning to end, and see all the different aspects of it and everything that goes into it”.
1:37 - 1:47 B-Roll: Television studio	1:29 - 1:52 Camryn Holly
1:47 - 1:48 SOT Camryn Holly	“I'm actually President of MCTV right now. So I've been in that club since my freshman year and that was really beneficial because I got to be in the studio and be making productions as a Freshman when we usually don't get in the studio until our sophomore or junior year, so I kind of got to learn the basics of the equipment before I was ever tested on it or taught it in a formal class setting”.
